

2008.07.29 Anywhere Issue 346

Sew What

Unique Children's Items

Softer than a Baby's Bottom

We were first attracted to this lovely line of myMonkeymoo stroller pads because of the name (it being a nickname we've been known to use ourselves), but once we picked one up, the attraction became much more physical. The reversible and 5-point harness compatible stroller pads add a touch of style to any stroller with their beautiful 100% cotton prints, but what really sold us was how oh-so-soft and cozy the swirl chenille side is, perfect for your little baby's bottom ($69). And the savvy in us likes that these pads help keep your ride clean (it's a lot easier to wash than the stroller). You can even dress up a third-hand stroller or use it as an emergency change pad when you're out and about. Developed by Vancouver mom of one, Kirsti King, and Vancouver dad of two, Ken Bower, they make a great baby shower gift too.

Available online at www.mymonkeymoo.com